DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to amendment filed January 12, 2004.

Claims

2. Claim 1 has been canceled. New claims 4 and 5 have been added.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed January 12, 2004, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 2-5 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of McGrath.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 2-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. .

As per claims 2-5, "first and second segment selector" and "first and second descriptor table", and "first and second register" are not supported by specification.

Drawings

6. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first and second table, and register must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim interpretation

Regards claims 4 and 5, the claims contain "intended use" functional language, such as "table operable to store segment descriptors", etc. Intended use functional language in a claim does not carry patentable weight. If the intent is to claim the functional language, Applicants are advised to incorporate the functional language in to the claim, by changing operable to store to storing; operable to hold to holding; etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

8. Claims 2, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by McGrath (U.S. No. 6,463,517).

As per claim 2, and 4, McGrath teaches a microprocessor that implements a segmentation operation comprising: a first table operable to store segment descriptors (col. 4, lines 64-67, global descriptor table); a second descriptor table operable to store segment descriptors (col. 4, lines 64-67, local descriptor table); a first register operable to hold a first segment selector operable to drive a linear address of a segment descriptor in the first descriptor table (claim 1); a second register operable to hold a second segment selector operable to drive a linear address of a segment descriptor in the second descriptor table (claim 1), a descriptor register operable to store a derive segment descriptor from a successful attempted access of one of said first descriptor table and said first descriptor table and said second descriptor table (col. 5, lines 2-5); wherein the microprocessor is operable to: attempt an access of the first descriptor table to derive a segment descriptor; if the access of the first descriptor table fails; attempt an access of the second descriptor table to derive a segment descriptor ; and store in the descriptor register a derived segment descriptor from a successful attempted access (col. 5, lines 2-5).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 3, and 5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
